The Chimes of Notre Dame in Antwerp.

The traveler who visits Antwerp is sometimes arrested in his wanderings through the quaint streets by the sudden bursting forth of the most exquisite music, which seems to float down upon him as out of the heavens themselves. The wondrous melody proceeds from the chimes of the Cathedral of Notre Dame; and the traveler looks towards that steeple which pierces the sky, rising to a height of near 400 feet, as though he might see there proceeding the concord of sweet sounds from the sixty bells ringing in tune there. Now strikes the great bell Carolus, named after Charles V., its god-father, weighing 16,000 pounds, and giving forth a deep yet sweet voice; and now again the sixty bells ring out with most enchanting notes. The chimes of Notre Dame of Antwerp! No more could we forget the paintings of Rubens, or the gorgeous splendor of the churches, than we could forget these celestial chimes. These chimes are to us a symbol of the good time coming when all nations and tongues shall chant together the hymn of peace. Then the angelic songs of the starlit plains of Bethlehem, in the ears of shepherds sounding, of peace on earth and good will to men, will be taken up by all peoples; and the millennial shall have such sweet-sounding chimes of love and concord ringing from the hearts of men as those glorious Notre Dame chimes are only the poor and faint symbols of. Should the sixty bells swinging in that tower all at once break forth in utter discord, and fill the air with the confused sounds of their jangle, we might have a type of that worst confusion now existing in the hearts and lives of men at enmity and war with one another.—Correspondence Philadelphia Bulletin.

CURIOUS JUDGMENT IN BENGAL—A somewhat startling and rather curious judgment was recently delivered by a Sessions Judge in one of the Bengal districts. Four persons were brought before him on a charge of murder, and were duly convicted; but in passing sentence the Judge apparently found himself in a difficulty. "There is no doubt," said he, "that all four are guilty of murder, and are, therefore, liable to be hanged; but I do not think it is necessary for four lives to be taken for one, but that one case of capital punishment will be enough for example!" Although, in addition to this, he said further on that "all four seem to have been equally active," yet he concluded by sentencing the apparently oldest and strongest of the prisoners to death, and the other three to imprisonment for life. On an appeal to the High Court the sentence was not confirmed. Yet such is the reading of the law by some of the Indian Judges.

Is now established in the

The Desert Land Act.

The history of this law is full of significance. It promised to be a means of multiplying homes and reclaiming unproductive land. It has proven an opportunity for the theft of the lowest order, and the sequel proves that theft was the end in view and not justice. The law is merely a fresh argument against sectional legislation in any form where lawmakers can not be presumed honest. The Desert Land law would in time have settled the sagebrush plains of Nevada, Utah, Colorado and the northern territories, but the zeal of those who projected this law in stealing from the Government has caused men of honest intentions to lose the chance of securing a field for labor. Last week further entries under the act were stopped and a rigid investigation directed as to the entries already made. It is to be hoped that the dishonesty of Boss Carr and his ilk may meet with a just reward in criminal prosecution, but the odds are against such an issue. The probabilities are strongly in favor of a repeal of the act without reparation for the injury done, and honest settlers will find themselves punished by the knavery of others. Such a law would be a blessing to Nevada and greatly increase the amount of land under cultivation. It would clear the sagebrush back to the hills and fill every valley with prosperous communities. It has been proven that our soil is strong and fertile, and we hoped much from this new law. We fail to see justice in refusing us its benefits because of the dishonesty of California's politicians.

Yesterday was Election day in Ohio and Iowa. The average reader will remember that great outbursts of indignation were predicted under the shadows of those ballot-boxes. Ohio and Iowa were places appointed by Democratic editors, and Republican renegades for a millennium—a renaissance of war issues,—and a consequent rebuke to President Hayes. The indications are now strongly in favor of increasing Republican majorities, and all this in face of the fact that in Ohio Hayes' favorite has been nominated for the executive office. How now rebukish, where are all of those Conklin bomb-shells?

A GOOD ONE.—The Nevada Transcript copied the S. F. Mail's account of the prison break at San Francisco, giving it a glaring "head," and issued their Tuesday morning paper on Monday evening, "in order to get ahead of the San Francisco papers." The whole thing turns out to be a hoax, and was nothing more than a sensational item, gotten up to create a little excitement. That's a good one on Watson. We modestly confined ourselves to a "stickful."

Our Congressman, Mr. Wren took occasion before leaving this State to proclaim his disapprobation of the President's course, and promise a sturdy opposition thereto. Reminds us of an adventurous gull, does Thomas, who having stood on the beach when the tide was out and found a worm, resolved to stand there tide or no tide. The gull moved, so will Mr. Wren.

The Silver State opened volume eleven Oct. 8th, and is likely in due course of time to proclaim the commencement of volume twenty-two. At least such is our hope, for the journal in question is a careful guardian of all that affects the interests of its readers.

Through the courtesy of a friend we have received Volume 1 No. 1 of the Manuscript Open Letter, a sketch-book which is to be issued upon special occasion. The number before us contains a description of the Pioneer Excursion to San Francisco and is very entertaining.

The Tybo Sun wants the people of this state against our Gilbert Roy craft, saying that he has been driven out of Eastern Nevada for tampering with little children. Gilbert had better make his stay very short with us or Roy Craft won't save him. No, he'll need a little priest-craft, and get very little too.

The President says he will not sit up nights to conciliate men who acknowledge his honesty.

Mexican Troubles.

Five murderers under indictment in Texas, were recently held by Mexican authorities, and proper requisition was made for them by Texan officials. The Mexican Governor now announces that the requisition has been ignored, and the murderers set free. Texas will call upon the Government for aid, and opinion says it will be granted. Concerning the state of affairs, a New Orleans dispatch says:

The exciting news from Mexico is attracting attention here. Further developments are most eagerly looked for. All sorts of views are put forth regarding the probabilities of a war, and its dimensions. Everybody knows that a struggle, even with a power so puny as Mexico, would cost much in blood and treasure. Still among the more sober citizens there is a feeling that our Government cannot afford to tolerate Mexican insolence, nor to permit the border to remain forever a scene of turmoil. Leading military men say that the present state of affairs on the border cannot be endured much longer, and since Mexico cannot preserve the peace on her side of the line, it will be necessary for our troops to occupy her territory, which will result in war. They think that if the crash must come at all, now is the time to bring it on. The Louisiana and Texas troops would probably have to bear the brunt of the struggle, especially in case of any Summer campaign in a malarious district, where none but men acclimated to Southern diseases could be used. It is thought a declaration of war would excite the wildest enthusiasm in this city. Not only would the vast army of unemployed rush to arms, but there are a large number of adventurous spirits here in prosperous circumstances, for whom the excitement of war is irresistible. The sentiment of this community is almost solid for war. New Orleans of all places would be the gainer, for she would be the base of operations while the campaign lasted, and when peace came the rich territory conquered would be tributary to her commerce.

THE ASH MURDER.—Virginia has been very much excited over the killing of Louis Ash by Policeman Davis, in that city, Oct. 8th. The testimony before Coroner Hodges as far as heard, is material against Davis. Following is the deposition made by Ash, shortly before his death:

I am perfectly conscious, and feel that I am dying. Policeman Davis shot me. I did nothing to cause the shooting. I was not quarreling with Davis at the time the shooting took place. I was drinking with Davis just before the shooting and had no pistol or knife in my hands or in my possession at the time. I am in my right mind and know what I am saying. It was a cold-blooded murder.

Sworn and subscribed before me on the 8th day of October, A. D. 1877. THOS. MOSES, Justice of the Peace.

Davis is an ex-prize fighter, and probably gains little sympathy on that account. The Chronicle says there was talk of lynching Davis on Monday night, and the jail was guarded in consequence. The inquest has not yet been concluded.

Winnemucca wants to grade court house hill, and several worthy ladies and gentlemen have organized a dramatic society, and will devote the proceedings to that grade of benevolence.

A LITTLE DAUGHTER'S DEVOTION.—A little girl, eleven years old, very lightly clad and barefooted, applied at the jail at Goodrich, on Wednesday afternoon, to be permitted to see her father, George May, from Exeter, who was serving a term of one month for abusing his wife. She was admitted at once, and the father's surprise and pleasure was genuine, the more so when he learned that the little one had walked the greater part of the way on foot. The girl left her home in Exeter on the previous Monday evening, and walked along the track toward Clinton until it got dark, when she laid down in the grass by the way and slept until morning. The journey was resumed early on Tuesday and maintained until the vicinity of Clinton was reached, late in the evening. During the day she had nothing to eat but beech nuts, which she gathered in the woods, but she was taken in by a kindly farmer's wife in the evening, kept over night, and forwarded to her destination next morning in a buggy. She was kept for a short time in the jail, where she made herself very useful, and proved herself a bright, intelligent little one. On Thursday the mother arrived and took the child, much against her will, home again.—Toronto Globe, Sept. 26th.

Two men named Joe Williams and Jack Devins, had a shooting scrape at Hot Creek, Nye county, last Tuesday. The Tybo Sun says they began to quarrel about a fence, and from words got to blows and shots. Devins was shot in the shoulder, and Williams was seriously injured by a blow on the head from a long handled shovel in the hands of Devins. The timely arrival of Mrs. Williams, who threw herself on the prostrate body of her husband saved him from being killed. M. M. Donahue was also in the fight, and he and Devins surrendered themselves to the authorities and gave bonds in $1,000 each to appear for examination.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Society Grand Ball.

We have contemplated giving in an article a description of the various inducements offered to the pleasure seeker by the management of our Fourth Annual Fair. We have seen these accumulate, however, until we have relinquished the task. The last, but not by any means the least, is the feature which makes the body of this item: Smith's Academy of Music is the best hall for dancing or musical purposes in the State of Nevada. On Friday evening, October 19th, this hall will be at the service of the society for the purpose of its First Annual Ball. Prof. J. W. Varney, of Virginia City, with his fine quadrille band will preside in the musical department, and the Committee of Arrangements, consisting of one Board of Trustees, will personally superintend everything connected with the entire success of the occasion. There is no doubt of the fact that this will be the largest "terpsichorean meeting" ever held in the State, and the preliminary arrangements, together with the committees appointed, give every possible assurance of comfort and enjoyment. See that your friends understand these arrangements, even if you have to send this item.

SHINER CINCHED.—Several days ago a member of the bootblack brigade stole the brushes from a smaller shiner who duly laid complaint before his honor, Justice R. It was a complicated case, for the testimony to be elicited from these plebeian folk is not such as would scintillate with candor and unswerving truth. The body politic had been grossly injured, but ye shiner's mind was harassed about his own serious loss. A place whereon to lay his uncombed head or nutriment with which to appease his hunger were matters of pressing importance. To secure these comforts it was necessary to have his brushes which were in the possession of John Jones, alias Jack Markey, a rugged ornament to society. This morning an officer ushered John unto the presence of the aforesaid R., J. P. of this bailiwick. A motley crew of would-be millionaires and bootblacks thronged the portals of justice and listened to the pathetic rehearsal of injuries received or to the egregious rebutting testimony of the accused, who wore a face well calculated to adorn the stone structure near the State Capitol. The trial was short, as the "needful" for prolonged legal investigation was wanting. R. thought for a minute or more, and then with becoming courtly dignity announced from his easy chair (which he bought of Sanders & Co.) that Jack Markey, alias Jno. Jones, a shiner of the town of Reno, of the commonwealth of Nevada, would be provided with accommodations at the county's expense for the term of 13 days, and that the high Constable should escort said knight of the boot brush into the presence of J. W. Rover.

PORK-U-SWINE.—A. H. Barnes has several animals with different tendencies toward pork, which he has raised from the fat of his own land, and will exhibit at our State Fair. These animals claim a long line of illustrious ancestors way back to the hills and dales of Berkshire, and Barnes thinks that among their progenitors may have been the swine before whom the pearls were cast on the shores of Galilee. However this may be the present swine-ships are fair to look upon and are already beginning to grunt for premiums. Look out for them.

THAT HOUSE.—Whose house is that in the middle of Plaza Street. Speak out, it has been in our road for a week, and to-day we lost a runaway because it intervened. This is hardly the correct thing and we want to be indemnified. Besides, there is no law preventing the use of Plaza Street during Fair week.

ROAD CLEANING.—Beemer is out with his handsome force removing rocks from the streets and roads about town. Tom Hymers has undertaken to see the roads properly sprinkled, and if you will all keep your door-yards clean we shall have an orderly town for Fair week.

GOOD NEWS FOR RENO.—H. N. Riggan has come out with a new grocery wagon, and will deliver all articles purchased of him to any part of town, or within five miles of town, free of charge. It is almost useless to state that he sells groceries, provisions and general merchandise cheaper than any other business house in Reno, and the people are rapidly finding this to be the fact. Commercial Row, next door to the Reno Meat Market. 8-31f

Jottings.

Messrs. Chamberlain and Bragg, not having let the bar privilege at the fair ground, will have it run themselves. Mr. Alfred Taylor will find a message for him by calling at the A. & P. telegraph office.

Mr. and Mrs. Grego, of San Francisco, father and mother of Mrs. J. H. Borland of this place, are visiting their daughter. They will remain until after the Fair, and we understand that Mr. C., who is of the firm of Grego & Bowley, San Francisco, will make an exhibition of buggies and carriages at the Fair.

"Black Crook, Pantomime and Combination Troupe" at Smith's Academy of Music next week.

It is with pleasure that we acknowledge the receipt of a complimentary ticket to the Nevada State Fair.

11 boxes of the pigeons for the Shooting Tournament arrived this morning. The remaining 25 dozen are yet to put in appearance. Stockton and San Francisco are whence they come. Ah! Whither shall they go? Pot pie, etc.

TO THE FRONT.—It will be seen by inspecting our advertising columns that Messrs. Cohn & Isaacs have made a new and quite interesting announcement to our male readers. These gentlemen have laid in a fine stock of the goods described in their ad. We have not seen finer underwear on this coast than what they have. Their stock of overcoats and men and boys suits cannot be excelled in the State. So we might speak of other articles, but gentlemen, call and examine for yourselves.

GRAND OPENING.—R. Smith's Academy of Music was opened for the first time last evening, and Waldron's Alleghaniens were the attraction. The attendance was very light, but the hall proved all that had been predicted of it, and will, we hope, be the scene of many enjoyable entertainments in the future. The Alleghaniens gave the same entertainment as that presented on Saturday evening, last.

FINE OYSTERS.—We forgot to say yesterday that Harry Noyes showed us some of the finest oysters which ever caused a poor editor's mouth to weep. There was a muchness, an exceeding great goodness about those bivalves which filled us with awe. Harry is charitable as well as good-looking, and asked us to try one. We did so three times. They are gone. "Though lost to sight, to memory dear."

FATAL JUMP.—Last Saturday as freight train No. 6 was nearing Truckee, a passenger named Jack Adams jumped from the train to get his hat, which the wind had blown off, and in doing so he was thrown with great force to the ground. His neck was broken by the fall and he died in a few minutes after. Adams was well known in Truckee, where he has resided for some time, and his body was taken there for burial.

DISTRICT COURT.—The case of J. P. Foulks vs. B. F. Rhodes is now on trial in the District Court. The cause of action arises from goods, etc., sold by plaintiff to defendant, which, it is alleged, have not been paid for. This case was partially tried once before, an appeal heard in the Supreme Court, and an order issued therefrom that the case be tried in the District Court. The present action will presumably be final.

PAINTS.—The California Fire and Water Proof Paint Co. will make an exhibit at our Fair. Mr. Charles Burchhalter will tarry in Reno during Fair week for that express purpose. You paint sharps should put your best foot forward for Charles knows whereof he speaks.

ANOTHER SPECIAL PREMIUM.—The only desirable special premium which has not been assured is one week of Fair weather, and, judging from the multitudinous prayers which are heard daily, we hope to secure this also.

The National Gold Medal was awarded to Bradley & Rolofson for the best Photographs in the United States, and the Vienna Medal for the best in the world. 429 Montgomery Street, San Francisco.

NARROW ESCAPE.—About 11 o'clock this forenoon a quantity of sagebrush got on fire near 22,000 cords of dry pine wood, at Brown's station. The V. & T. company have eight men at work at the dump, and it was all they could do to keep the wood from catching on fire. Had the wood caught on fire it would probably have resulted in a total loss to the company.

PENMANSHIP.—Who does not admire good penmanship? And how many wonder why it is that they cannot write well when seeing handsome specimens of writing. It is conceded that much is owing to the pen used, and we can confidently recommend the COMBINATION PENS made by Joseph Mason, London, as among the very best. By sending $1.50 in currency to H. S. Crocker & Co., Sacramento, you can have one gross of these pens sent you by mail, postage paid. 9-29 ind&w
